

Best Party Schools

Parties can be one of the best things about college.

Many colleges don't like to be labeled as a party school, so here's what they don't want you to know.

Rather than making a limited list of the Top 10 party schools, we have included all colleges that are the biggest partiers.

Here are the best party schools:

- WVU - West Virginia is almost always at the top of every Top 10 Party College list. This place is insane!

- UCSB (Santa Barbara) - Right on the beach. Great Halloween parties. Located in Isla Vista, Del Playa Drive is where its at!

- ASU - Hot weather + hot babes = hot parties. Tempe also has some cool local bars, including The Library and Dos Gringos Trailer Park Bar.

- San Diego State - Surf, study and party. Being in San Diego is the perfect place for all three, plus being close to Mexico is a bonus.

- Washington State University - aka "Wazzu". Nothing to do in this small town of Pullman but drink beer.

- Wisconsin-Madison - Another beer city with a huge bar scene.

- Indiana-Bloomington - Bloomington is a small college town with a ton of students always looking to party. Its big event is the Little 500, which is a bicycle race modeled off of the Indy 500.

- Mississippi - Huge Greek scene.

- Texas - A huge student body, which guarantees there will always be lots of partying.

- Ohio University - Another great party school that has a huge Halloween party that attracts college partiers from all over.

- Florida State - Made the list on Playboy's Top 10 Party Schools.

- Penn State - Was ranked #2 in a recent list of Princeton Review's Top Party Schools.

- University of Arizona - There is something about hot weather that brings out the partying in people.

- Alabama - Alabama parties so hard, even their old football Coach Mike Price was fired for his conduct around Alabama.

- LSU - Tailgating and College football.

- Florida - You can always find a party here as it's one of the biggest colleges in the nation with an enrollment of over 50,000.

- Iowa - Big Bar scene in the city of Iowa City.

- Georgia - There is something about College Football and Partying that just seem to go together.

- Tennessee - See above.
